

TOC IN COUNSELING: BREAKING THE CYCLE OF FAILURE

Zeny is a first year student in our school. She is an adopted daughter of one of our teachers. Zeny was referred to me by her class adviser for being troublesome and inattentive. She wants the company of boys. She was recommended for dismissal by the Discipline Action Committee for being pregnant. She was absent for almost a month and her close friend informed the office that she underwent an abortion. Her parents came and asked for reconsideration. As a counselor, I found out that Zeny needs special attention. So parents and I agreed to help each other so that she will pass her subjects. This is one of her basic conflicts:

*As a result of counseling with the TOC tools,
she is now passing all her subjects.*
