

STUDENT ELECTIONS

In the spring we had election for the Student Counsel at Byalik Elementary School. The student council is a very important body at school and many students want to be a part of it. The problem is that too many times those students that are being elected do not fit the requirements of a council member. In order to resolve this problem, we raised with the students conflicts that are common to this subject. Raising those issues and talking about them had an impact on the students and many of them made more thoughtful decisions as a result. Also it enabled them to share more freely their emotion at this time-- their fears and their hopes. Here is the conflict of one of the students who wanted to be a candidate for election:
