

UNDERSTANDING STORIES

I taught the cloud to my 2nd grade students in a literature class during discussion of a story about wanting or not wanting a little brother. Teo, the boy in the story, is worried that when the new baby comes to the family, his parents will not give him attention. The children wrote the cloud which would help Teo to accept responsibility for his feelings and to talk to his parents about the situation.

INJECTION:

Ask my parents to not forget about loving me and take care of me.
